

Got a technology question?

Ask AL

AL stands for Atomic Learning, our online resource for software training.

Learn GroupWise 7, the 2007 Microsoft Office Suite programs and more!

The Atomic Learning Website

1. Open your Internet browser and go to www.atomiclearning.com.
2. You must enter a user name and password to login to this website. If a login box does not automatically open, click Log In on the main toolbar.
3. Enter cobb in the username field.
4. The password is the same as the district Galileo password. If you don't know the Galileo password, either check with your school's media specialist or call the Customer Service Center at 770-426-3330.
5. After entering the password, press Log In.

Accessing the Online Technology Skills Tutorials

Do This:

1. Make sure a check is beside Tutorials.
2. Below Select desired filter(s), choose the desired Office application, version, platform and type (optional).
3. Click the Find Tutorials button.
4. When the Series Title window opens, click the + beside the title to view sub-titles.
5. Click on one of the sub-titles, and then select a specific tutorial.
6. Wait for the list of tutorials to appear, and click on one from the list like Word 2007-Intro.
7. After the tutorial finishes, choose another tutorial or click Log Out on the toolbar.

